

Community of Practice

Our co-created environment is a safe space for sacred practice for all persons regardless of gender, gender identity and expression, sexual orientation, disability, physical appearance, body size, race, ethnicity, age and theological or spiritual perspective.

It is expected that all individuals participating in this program will do so in the spirit of non-judgement, personal integrity, respect for confidentiality and sensitivity to the experience of others.

Because we are converging to create and hold space that is psychologically, emotionally and physically safe to contain our individual and collective vulnerability, it is extremely important that your participation includes your agreement to uphold the above precepts and reject the following conduct:

- Harassment, deliberate intimidation, bullying and other behaviours causing distress to a reasonable person
- We accept and welcome all emotional experiences. Should your emotional experience be intense and require individual attention we will provide space for that.
- All touch must be with consent
- There is absolutely no phones allowed in the event space - we will have a safe place for them.

Facilitators and team members of Grief Advocacy commit to upholding the terms of the same engagement agreement we ask of our participants, with no exceptions. Further, we are fully committed to serving each individual, and the group as a whole, in all reasonable ways that ensure accountability, transparency, integrity, respect and justice.

We encourage you to connect prior to the event for any reason or have questions specific to the above information. By entering into this event, each participant, understands that this workshop is a physical and emotional experience.

Each participant understands that they will not be asked to do anything illegal, immoral, or against my will. I recognize and understand that this program is a wholistic healing experience, and not a form of mental, psychological, or medical treatment and that the facilitators, while competent and qualified to oversee this work are not medical professionals.

I take full responsibility for all my actions, conscious and unconscious, and, therefore, release Grief Advocacy and it's facilitators from all medical and legal responsibility with respect to my participation. I also understand that I am given agency to leave the event at any time should the workshop become overwhelming.

My attendance is confirmation that I have read and agree to the terms of this event. I have given serious consideration to this commitment, and my intention is to participate deeply and fully in this important work.
